The European Confederation of Primary Care Pediatricians strongly supports the World Health Organization (WHO) as a fundamentally important institution that has consistently advocated for the health of all individuals, with a particular focus on children and primary care.

WHO's unwavering commitment to promoting health, preventing diseases, and ensuring access to quality healthcare services is crucial for safeguarding the well-being of the youngest and most vulnerable members of our society. Its work is a cornerstone to a healthy future for our planet.

We believe in the importance of WHO's efforts in addressing global health challenges and improving health outcomes for children everywhere.

Therefore, we continue to loyally collaborate with the WHO in the best interest of the health and well-being of all children and their families.

We oppose every shortsighted attempt to tamper with this ambitious, thus essential, task the WHO is committed to.
